Secure, auditable technology

With Interface Scripting Module, built-in user permissions and audit elements added to each charge item let you maintain full accountability.

If your patient financial system is ever updated or changed, Interface Scripting Module gives you the ability to test changes in complete safety by using a specialized test mode. This feature adds another layer of confidence to the process.

Real-world experience

Craneware has hands-on experience successfully interfacing with a variety of patient financial systems, including Siemens INVISION, HMS, McKesson HealthQuest, McKesson STAR, MEDITECH MAGIC, and MEDITECH Client/Server and many others. This real-world expertise ensures that Interface Scripting Module works smoothly and reliably.

Advanced reporting capabilities

With the Pre-Report feature, users can preview and audit all changes before Interface Scripting Module transfers them. Similarly, a Post-Report presents changes already transferred. In fact, users may filter and track any update sent to the financial system. All changes can be summarized and exported into a separate file for easy historical reference.

Control over your schedule

With Interface Scripting Module, you may upload changes on demand or according to a set schedule. Because you have the option of scheduling any batch to start at any date or time, you no longer have to waste evenings, weekends or holidays making price or code changes that must take effect at a certain time.
