

Craneware Training Events Center

Your organization's need for software training doesn't end when the trainers have finished your implementation and head out to the airport. Your staff will need refresher training. New recruits will come into your department. Your existing power-users will be looking for ways they can advance their knowledge..

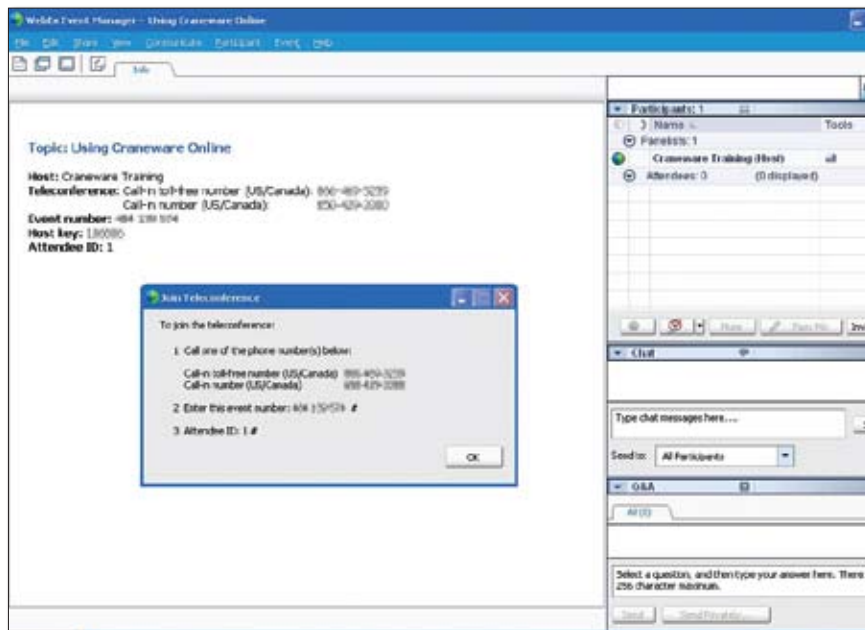

But how can your organization keep up?
At what cost in time and money?
And who will lead the training sessions?

Good news:

Your Craneware software license entitles you to on-going staff training via live, interactive WebEx sessions from Craneware's Training Events Center.

Because the training is done via the Web, your staff will not have to travel to receive their instruction — nor will they have to spend hours away from their jobs in a classroom. That's because the Training Events Center has developed time-efficient, 1 to 1½ hour training modules. Topics are very specific, and are aimed at either beginner, intermediate or advanced users.

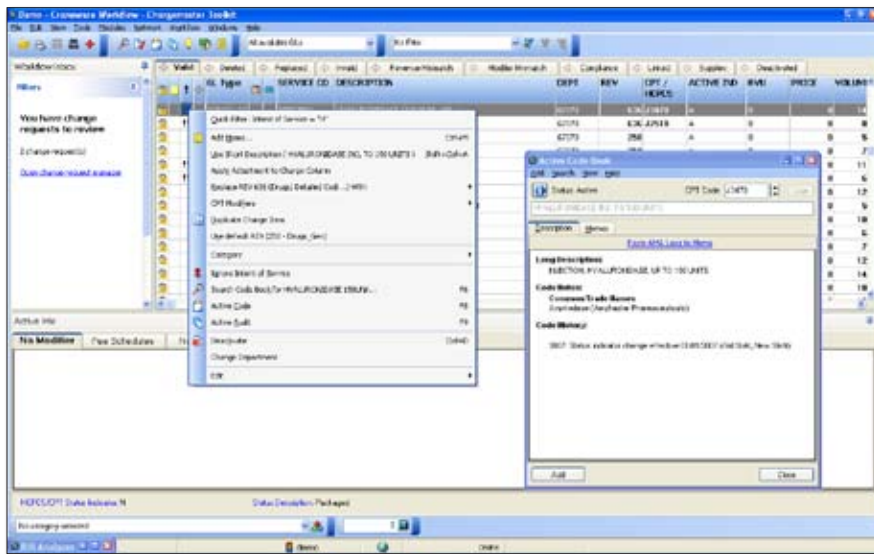

◀ Your staff will receive their training at their desktops, via a standard WebEx connection. All that's needed is an Internet connection and a telephone.

Craneware's experienced staff conducts the sessions via the Web, using WebEx audio and video connections.

All you need on your end is an Internet connection and a phone line to call our toll-free number. The two-way nature of the WebEx connection means your staff can ask the instructor questions about specific areas that concern them.

◀ All training sessions use the “live” Craneware application, rather than static screen shots.

Your staff is trained on the actual application, seeing it the same way they will see it when they use it
